Almost 300 billion cans are manufactured each year for preserving foodstuffs. That’s not a problem with the correct dose of BYK additives. High surface slip, excellent scratch and abrasion resistance, non-blistering, substrate adhesion and optimum flow behavior are essential properties that BYK additives positively effect during can coating. And it goes without saying that they meet all food safety standards. How can we enhance your cans?

www.byk.com