Water, wind and waves – the rough, irrepressible power of the sea is a real challenge for any surface protection. Whether it’s a ship or drilling rig, steel or concrete, BYK Additives for Protective and Marine Coatings prove how powerful they are under extreme conditions. They simplify the application of coatings, enable the coating layers to be reduced, provide long-lasting corrosion protection, and reduce maintenance intervals. Positive effects to be proud of both economically and ecologically!

www.byk.com