Global players in the chemical industry are constantly faced with increasingly greater and more complex demands on product safety. Documentation and registration involves tremendous cost and effort. BYK has taken on a pioneering role in terms of global product safety with its Regulatory Affairs service. Our BRIEF (BYK Regulatory Information Extensive Forms) are considered a yardstick for relevant regulatory data with which our customers, from registration of substances to product rollout, remain on the safe side of the legislation and guidelines that operate in different countries and regions. This includes the direct contacts they enjoy locally. With BYK, they have everything under control – anywhere in the world.
